How can we help?

Challenge

Measuring and reporting on sustainable finance performance requires robust methodologies, data sources, and analytical tools. In addition, navigating through diverse sets of evolving sustainable finance regulations and understanding their nuanced differences requires continuous monitoring and extensive expertise.

About Steward Redqueen

We are an independent consulting firm that supports clients worldwide with advisory services and data solutions centred around sustainability and impact. We are a modern, global firm with a team of ambitious professionals who are driven by our mission to make business work for society. We challenge conventional thinking and prioritize tailor-made solutions over generic approaches.

Our CSRD offer

At Steward Redqueen we offer clients four types of CSRD-related services:

CSRD insights

Elevate your understanding of the CSRD requirements and related implications for your business through tailored training

CSRD review

Gain insight into your organisation's preparedness to onboard CSRD requirements and address existing gaps

Double materiality assessment

Determine material sustainability issues for your CSRD reporting and leverage the insights to inform your decisions

CSRD compliance

Make the CSRD compliance journey as seamless as possible with a full-service solution

CSRD insights

Tailored trainings and workshops

We cover a spectrum of topics, from an overview of the CSRD requirements and double materiality assessment to strategic insights for management and supervisory boards. Our approach is anything but one-size-fits-all. You can choose a standalone training session or immerse your team in an interactive workshop, all tailored to the context and needs of your organisation. Upon grasping your expectations and identifying the target audience, we will assist you in delineating the scope and depth of your training experience.

Our offer

Capacity building activities in a format that best suit your needs:

In-person

Online

Events

Do you need strategic insights and advice on the CSRD requirements and how to implement them in your organisation?

CSRD review

Assessment of CSRD preparedness

Upon receiving relevant documentation, we conduct a thorough evaluation of your organisation's preparedness to onboard CSRD requirements. Our process involves a strategic review of your current sustainability reporting practices as well as underlying sustainability strategy, governance, and adopted policies, action plans and targets within material sustainability areas. Based on the identified gaps, we prepare a detailed roadmap, outlining specific steps, responsibilities, and timelines for addressing them.

Our offer
